

Biography

DEFENSE COMMISSARY AGENCY

1300 E Avenue, Fort Lee, Virginia 23801-1800

William F. Moore Director and Chief Executive Officer

William F. (Bill) Moore is the Defense Commissary Agency's Director and Chief Executive Officer. His appointment was effective August 3, 2020. As DeCA's Director and CEO, Mr. Moore oversees the operations of a global agency, with annual sales approaching $5 billion that employs more than 13,000 people at nearly 240 commissaries.

Son of an Army combat veteran, non-commissioned officer, Mr. Moore was appointed to the Senior Executive Service (SES) in October 2006. His prior assignment was the HQDA Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff, G4 (Tier 3), where he was responsible for Army logistics plans, policy and programs. In this role, he served as the Army's leading expert and foremost authority on logistics.

Previously, he served as the Deputy Chief of staff G-1/4 (Personnel, Logistics and Engineering), U.S. Army Training & Doctrine Command (SES Tier 2). In this capacity, he was responsible for human resources, logistics, engineering, and integration of base support programs, while administering diversity, medical, safety, and history functions for a 4-Star global command.

Prior to that role, he served as the deputy to the Commanding General of the Army's Combined Arms Support Command & Fort Lee (SES Tier 2), Virginia, where he oversaw a 5,000-person work force across 10 states with a combined budget of more than $350 million, leading Army sustainment capabilities development, along with the annual training and leader development of more than 180,000 soldiers, other service members and civilians.

In all, Mr. Moore's experience spans more than 37 years serving our military and their families.

EDUCATION

- 2007-2019, Various senior executive courses at Harvard Kennedy School, the University of Virginia, and the University of North Carolina
- 2001, Master of Science, National Resource Strategy, National Defense University's Industrial College of the Armed Forces, Fort McNair, Washington, D.C.
- 1992, Master of Science, Management, Florida Institute of Technology, Melbourne, Fla.
- 1982, Bachelor of Science, Mechanical Engineering, Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, Va.

CAREER CHRONOLOGY

- 2016 - August 2020, Deputy Chief of Staff, G4, Headquarters, Department of the Army, Washington, D.C.
- 2015 - 2016, Deputy Chief of Staff, G1/4 (Personnel, Logistics & Engineering), U.S. Army Training & Doctrine Command, Fort Eustis, Va.
- 2006 - 2015, Deputy to the Commanding General, Army's Combined Arms Support Command & Fort Lee, Fort Lee, Va.
- 1983 - 2006, Various engineering, logistics and leadership positions in the Headquarters, Department of the Army, the U.S. Army Training & Doctrine Command, and the U.S. Army Combined Arms Support Command.

(Current as of February 2021)